CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

It is settled that the case of Gov. Thomas, Senator elect from Maryland, will go over to the next meeting of Congress for a decision, unless the present session shall extend into the latter part of next week.

East Tennessee is damaged to the extent of over two millions of dollars by the flood. Blount, Cockeroan and Zavier counties all lose heavily. In Blount county a large flock of sheep were drowned, and the loss of stock of all kinds is unprecedentedly heavy. All the farmers living on the rivers will be very late with their crops. The loss of stock will be a great drawback. The parts of the railroad bridges washed away have been recovered, and trains are now running to Chattanooga from all points. Many lives were lost in lower Tennessee, and many families were left homeless, and must suffer. Over one hundred car loads of corn were destroyed at Chattanooga. The depots were all submerged, and much freight was destroyed. The rivers are still high, and more rain is falling.

John Morrissey, Fernando Wood, James Brooks and John W. Chandler, of the New York Congressional delegation, had a long interview with the President on Wednesday night. The subject of the talk was general, including reconstruction, confiscation and impeachment, but related more particularly to Federal appointments for the city of New York. The President was very reticent, and gave them no encouragement concerning the distribution of the offices.

The Irish enthusiasm in New York has all subsided, and the late rebellion in Ireland is conceded to have been a failure. The only parties who receive any attention are those who favor an invasion of Canada. Several meetings have been held on the subject of an early invasion, and steps are being taken that look somewhat like work.

The most formidable body of horsemen known in Mexico for many years has been organized and placed under Mejias' command, and should the expected battle prove a Liberal defeat, it will most probably be urged into a disastrous rout. On the other hand, if Maximilian is defeated his cavalry will suffice him for a desperate attempt to cut his way to the Rio Grande, where he will take refuge in the United States.

In Virginia, the order of disbanding military organizations has caused the disbandment of Hunnicutt's colored guards, at which Hunnicutt and the negroes are very much grieved. Henry A. Wise has consented to stump the State in opposition to Hunnicutt.

Two school houses in Brighton, Mass., one occupied by the high school, and the other as a primary department, were burned on Wednesday night by incendiaries. Loss, $70,000.

FROM NEW YORK.

The Abortion Case—The Tammany Society—Negro Suffrage Voted Down.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The Mrs. Kimball who came to her death, as alleged, from the effects of an attempt to procure abortion, was not the wife of Major Kimball, of Hawkins' Zouaves, but widow of the late Lieutenant Kimball, taken prisoner during the Mexican war, and died in captivity. The wife of Major Kimball is employed in one of the departments at Washington.

The Tammany Society purchased a lot on the north side of Fourteenth street, formerly the site of the Medical College University, which burned down with the Academy of Music. The ground is one hundred and sixteen feet front and one hundred and twenty-five feet deep. It cost eighty thousand dollars. There is a balance left, as a building fund, of seventy thousand dollars, which will be increased several thousand more.

The State Convention bill has passed the Legislature with the negro suffrage clause stricken out.

FROM LOUISIANA.

Legislative Matters—Impeachment of Gov. Wells Abandoned—Registry Office Closed by Order of General Sheridan.

NEW ORLEANS, March 21.—In the Senate a joint resolution was introduced recommending all citizens, white and black, entitled to vote, to register their names and take an active part in the reorganization of the State.

The report from the special or Impeachment Committee in the House recommend that no further steps for the impeachment of Governor Wells be taken, as the establishment of military rule in the State would render such action nugatory. Adopted.

In the House a joint protest has been introduced against the Reconstruction Bill.

The office of Register of Voters has been closed by the register by the advice of General Sheridan.

Foreign Markets by Cable.

QUEENSTOWN, March 21.—The steamer Tarifa, from New York, arrived to-day.

Breadstuffs—Oats sold to-day at 3s. 3d. for 45 lbs, for American and Canadian. Provisions—Beef; extra prime mess 127s. 6d. per 104 lbs. Tallow; American 44s. 3d. per cwt. Lard 50s. Produce market quiet. Spirits Turpentine 37s. 3d. per cwt. Ashes—Pots 33s. 3d. per cwt.

Michigan Legislature—Twenty-one Railroad Bills Vetoed.

DETROIT, March 21.—In the State Senate, yesterday, Governor Crapo's veto of the Port Huron & Lansing Railroad bill was voted upon, and resulted in the bill being lost, lacking one vote of making the necessary two-thirds. This morning the Governor sent to the Senate a veto of twenty railroad bills on the same grounds as the former veto. The Senate took a vote on two of the bills, and lacked strength to pass them. The others were tabled, thus probably ending the project of building railroads in this State by means of municipalities.

A violent northwest storm prevailed all day.

LATE PRINTING SUPERINTENDENT.

Mr. ANTHONY introduced a resolution instructing the Committee on Printing to inquire if there be any deficits in the account of the late Superintendent of Printing, whether he made contracts prejudicial to the Government, and whether he bought more paper than he should, &c.

Mr. ANTHONY explained the object of the resolution to be to remove certain impressions, created by newspapers, as to the conduct of the late Superintendent. He read a letter from Mr. Wendell, denying the allegations made against him, and requesting an investigation. The resolution was adopted.

THE SALE OF VESSELS TO BELLIGERENTS.

Mr. CHANDLER, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a resolution authorizing American citizens to dispose of vessels to friendly belligerent governments under certain circumstances. Laid over for the present.

THE BANKRUPT BILL.

Mr. TRUMBULL said the measure had the sanction of the Chief Justice. Laid over for the present.

VOTE RECONSIDERED.

Mr. SHERMAN moved to reconsider the vote by which the bill exempting from Internal Revenue tax wrapping paper made from wood or corn stalks. Passed.

On motion of Mr. SHERMAN a tax of ten per cent. was imposed on all State, municipal or corporation notes, or scrip issued by any national banks, and thus amended the bill passed.

TAX ON NATIONAL BANKS.

A letter from the Secretary of the Treasury was previously read, showing that national banks in New Orleans were issuing scrip as currency.

The bill to sell certain stock held in trust for Chickasaw and Choctaw Indians was passed.

Mr. MORGAN reported favorably on remitting the tax on steam agricultural machinery. The subject was postponed until to-morrow.

ENLISTED SLAVES.

Mr. TRUMBULL called up the joint resolution to suspend further proceedings under the act to appoint a committee to pay loyal slave owners for slaves enlisted in the army.

Messrs. Davis and Saulsbury opposed the resolution, which then passed, by 32 against 7.

INDEFINITELY POSTPONED.

The House bill to include the employees of the Quartermasters and Commissary Departments, with their salaries increased twenty per cent, under the resolution of last session, was received from the House, and on motion of Mr. Williams, was indefinitely postponed.

The Senate went into executive session and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MR. SCHENCK introduced a joint resolution to extend to employees of Quartermasters and Subsistence Departments at Washington the provisions of the joint resolution giving 20 per cent additional compensation to certain employees in the civil service of the government at Washington, including mechanics, laborers, watchmen and other employees in these Departments.

UNITED STATES COURT OF NEBRASKA.

Mr. WILSON, (Iowa,) from the Judiciary Committee, reported back the Senate bill to provide for the District and Circuit Court of the United States for Nebraska, with an amendment, giving the Judge of the 8th Circuit $100 additional salary to defray travelling expenses. After some discussion the amendment was rejected, and the bill passed.

NEW YORK CUSTOM HOUSE MATTERS.

Mr. HURLBURD, Chairman of the Committee on Public Expenditures, stated that the Committee having taken testimony, which apparently inculpated one or more members of the Senate, the Committee deemed it proper to report it to the House, so that such action might be taken as comported with the courtesy due from one house to the other. He offered the following:

Resolved, That the House, having been informed by one of its Committees that testimony was brought to the knowledge of said Committee, which testimony apparently implicated one or more members of the Senate, the House therefore directs that all such testimony be transmitted to the Senate for its information.

Mr. SPAULDING inquired whether the Senate contemplated any further continuance of this session.

Mr. HURLBURD replied that it did not.

Mr. TABER stated, that as one of the minority of the committee, he did not agree to the report. The evidence was, to his mind, entirely insufficient to base such a resolution upon, and he asked it to be read to the House.

Mr. HURLBURD stated that the report just submitted was based on the testimony taken by the Committee of last session, together with the evidence of one witness who appeared before the Committee of the present Congress, and if the House would require the reading of all the testimony, it would probably occupy six days.

After debate the resolution was passed.

REMOVAL OF COLLECTOR SMYTHE.

Mr. HURLBURD reported the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the House that Henry A. Smythe should be immediately removed from the office of Collector of the Port of New York, and that the Clerk of the House cause a certified copy of this resolution to be laid before the President of the United States.

Mr. BUTLER opposed the resolution. There was but one way by which this House should demand the removal of a high officer; that was by impeachment. There was no other way.

Mr. RANDALL expressed the opinion that the resolution was unusual and uncalled for.

Mr. BUTLER asked Mr. Randall what should be done if the President refuses to remove Mr. Smythe?

Mr. RANDALL replied that if the President did what was right, he would tell the House, if it passed the resolution, to mind its own business. (Laughter.) He concurred in the opinion that Mr. Smythe should be removed, if not for malfeasance, for unfitness.

The morning hour expired, and the resolution went over until to-morrow.

SOUTHERN DESTITUTION QUESTION.

The House went into Committee of the Whole (Mr. Blaine in the chair) and resumed the consideration of the Senate Joint Resolution appropriating one million dollars for the relief of destitute people.

All general debate being ordered closed in a few minutes, Messrs. Banks and Bingham withdrew their pending amendments.

Mr. BINGHAM offered an amendment to strike out of the joint resolution the words appropriating one million dollars, and inserting these words: "And to that end the Secretary of War is hereby authorized and directed, through the Commissioner of Freedmen's Bureau, to apply so much as he may deem necessary for the purposes aforesaid of unexpended monies heretofore provided to supply freedmen and refugees with provisions or rations."

Mr. BUTLER made a speech against the amendment and joint resolution, declaring it was intended to aid in this way the able-bodied white rebels, who were loafing around corner grocery stores refusing to work, while the mudsills of the North were forced to work.

Mr. SPAULDING supported the joint resolution.

Mr. WOODBRIDGE, for the purpose of showing that Union soldiers who suffered in rebel prisons were themselves in favor of this bill, read from a letter from a soldier living in Rutland, Vt.

Mr. LOGAN, while considering it as an argument, quoted against it resolutions adopted in meetings of Associations of the Grand Army of the Republic, in Washington, New York, and elsewhere.

Mr. WOODBRIDGE declared that if such Associations consisted of soldiers, they were wanting in the finest element that distinguished a coward from a brave man. [Applause.]

Mr. BROOMALL supported the amendment and trusted it would be adopted and the joint resolution as amended be passed.

Mr. LOGAN could not see what the question of bravery and soldierly conduct had to do with the passage or defeat the resolution. He disliked to hear those remarks of the gentleman from Vermont. He did not think they came in good grace from a man who had never had an opportunity of testing that courage, so as to know whether he was a brave man or not. If the resolution was passed, he should propose that like aid be granted to those who are suffering from inundation in the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys.

Mr. BUTLER, referring to the intimation made by Mr. Woodbridge the other day, that he (Butler) was not a statesman, said he agreed to that, and had just escaped being a statesman by failing to be elected to the Thirty-ninth Congress. (Laughter.)

Mr. WOODBRIDGE denied that he had said any such thing.

Mr. BUTLER—Then the gentleman from Vermont means to say, "I am a Statesman." I am very much obliged to him. (Laughter.) As to the action of the soldiers of the Grand Army of the Republic, I have received from them, unsolicited, a resolution supporting my course, and so long as I have the approval of the soldiers of the army, I can very well do without that of those who were out of this House during the entire war. (Laughter from the Democratic side.)

The debate went on a considerable time, with some asperity of feeling, participated in by Messrs. Schenck, Lawrence (Ohio,) Pile, Miller, Farnsworth, Broomall, Shellabarger, Butler and Benjamin. In the course of the debate, Mr. Butler spoke of Mr. Bingham as having gone over to the other side of the House, not only in body, but in spirit, and reminded him of what that great and good man, President Johnson, had done, while Provisional Governor of Tennessee, in taxing wealthy rebels to support poor families.

Mr. BINGHAM—It does not become the gent. who recorded his vote fifty times (Mr. ELDRIDGE suggested fifty-seven times) for the arch-traitor of the rebellion for President of the United States, to undertake to cast an imputation either on my integrity or my honor. I repel with scorn and contempt any utterance of that kind by any man, whether he be hero of Fort Fisher taken, or hero of Fort Fisher not taken. (Roars of laughter on both sides.) I also stand here, sir, in the name of the American people, to repel with scorn the attempt to levy charities by confiscation, in violation of the Constitution of my country. That, sir, is the proposition which the gentleman (Mr. Butler,) dares to utter in the American Congress in the sacred name of charity. (Applause and laughter.)

Mr. BUTLER rose to reply, but the Chairman announced that the time to which the House limited debate had expired.

Mr. BUTLER asked the privilege of the House to reply.

The CHAIRMAN said the gentleman could not ask that privilege when the House was in Committee of the Whole.

Mr. BUTLER then asked unanimous consent to speak ten minutes.

Unanimous consent having been given, Mr. BUTLER expressed his infinite obligations to the House for its kindness, and said: "I have never concealed the fact, which is now so offensively put forward, that I voted for Jefferson Davis in the convention of my party fifty-five times. I thought him the best statesman of the south, and hoped thereby to stay the threatened disunion, which, I feared, was in the distance. I was failed, and disunion came. The difference between me and the honorable gentleman from Ohio is this: that while Jeff. Davis was a Senator of the United States, and was claiming to be the friend of the Union, I supported him, while the gentleman (Bingham) supports him while he is a traitor. I have now changed my support. (Laughter.) I have seen the error of my past way and repented; but I did not expect a blow to be aimed at me in that direction from that side of the House, which supported him. There they have supported him ever since and are still supporting him and his friends. [Applause.] (Mr. Bingham's seat is on the Democratic side of House,) I did not mean to impugn the honor or integrity of the gentleman from Ohio. I only said I thought he was leading the other side of the House.

Mr. BINGHAM—If the gentleman had qualified his words by saying he thought so, I would not have said one word.

Mr. BUTLER—I never say in anything I do I think (Laughter and applause) I will try to repeat the words I used. I said the gentleman had gone in spirit as he had gone in body over to the other side of the House. I thought so then and I think so now. I said so then and I say so now. (Laughter again.) I cannot take it back. The gentleman has had the good taste to attack me for the reason that I could not do any more injury to the enemies of my country. I did the best I could; other men of more ability could do more, and no man is ready to give the higher plaudit for their valor, their discretion and their conduct, than myself; because I could not do more I felt exceedingly chagrined. If during the war the gentleman from Ohio, (Mr. Bingham,) did as much, I should be glad to recognize that much done; but the only victim of the gentleman's prowess that I know of was an innocent woman hanged upon the scaffold. His only victim was one Mrs. Surratt. I can sustain the memory of Fort Fisher. If he and his associates can sustain him in the blood of a women, tried by Military Commission, and condemned without sufficient evidence, in my judgment.

Mr. BINGHAM asked and obtained five minutes to reply. He said: After ten years of service in this House, the gentleman will look in vain for any remarks of mine personal to mortal man on this floor, save when I was gratuitously assailed by others. I have observed the amenity of debate and the amenity of personal conduct out of the House in such form, I trust, as entitled me to the respect and consideration of those who know me best, but the gentleman, (Butler) while he talks of matters of late, and chooses to constitute himself my judge, touching the integrity of my conduct as a sworn representative of the people, and when he comes to make his reply to me, feeling that he has done a dishonor to himself, and an injustice to me, undertakes to qualify his rash judgment by saying that he only said he thought so. Sir, if he had said at first that he thought so, it never would have disturbed my equanimity, for I would have concerned myself just this much about what he thought as I would about who killed Cock Robin. (Laughter.) The gentleman has shown the same want of consideration for the rights of others in the remarks which he had just made by favor of the House. By what right does he constitute himself a judge, to say, of me, on the field of conflict, when the earth quaked, that the blood of innocence is on my hands! Does the gentleman mean to say by his sweeping judgment that it is also on the hands of those brave men who were constituted, by a warrant of your President, a court to pronounce that judgment without which nobody could be executed! Sir, I repeat, in the language of a man, the latchet of whose shoes the gentleman was not worthy to unloose, who said that we should patiently hear first, and consider and pronounce judgment afterwards. In the language of the great Lord High Chancellor of England, notwithstanding the utterance of the cynical poet that he was the greatest, wisest and meanest of mankind, I will say, that whether the blood of innocence is on my hands or not, I leave to the charitable judgment of men and future ages, on the great question connected with the assassination of the chosen of the people, by which he was cut down in the presence of his rejoicing countrymen, not for his crimes, but for his virtues, murmuring, as his great soul went up to the common Father of us all, "Charity towards all, and malice towards none." It was fit that the means by which his taking off was accomplished should be ascertained and be determined. When summoned to it, I persisted I was not equal to the task, and those who called me to that work know best with what reluctance I entered upon it; but with my own present convictions and faith, the records that have gone to the country and world, I defy the gentleman's calumny.

The SPEAKER'S hammer announced the termination of Mr. Bingham's five minutes.

Mr. STEVENS moved that the House adjourn, remarking that the members had had enough of this matter of negatives.

Mr. ROSS suggested that ten minutes additional be given to Messrs. Bingham and Bates.

The House again went into Committee of the Whole and resumed and considered the joint resolution. The amendments offered by Messrs. Schenck, Butler, Farnsworth, Pile, Shellabarger, Broomall, Logan and others, were rejected.

An amendment offered by Mr. LOGAN, providing that the expenditure shall not exceed beyond appropriations already made for the Freedmen's Bureau, was adopted.

The Committee rose and reported the bill, and the House seconded the previous question upon it.

Adjourned.

THE LAST MURDER.

Full Particulars of the Crime.

AN OLD MAN BUTCHERED.

We gave in yesterday's GAZETTE so much of the account of a horrible crime committed in Washington county, as could be gathered from the statements made by a gentleman who came to the city on the coach from Washington. We obtained yesterday the full particulars of the cold-blooded affair, which we give below. It will be observed that the hasty rumor which we published yesterday as a rumor, was a mistaken one in some of its important particulars, though the main fact of the terrible deed having been committed, is too well confirmed. Our information brings the matter closer home to us than before, as the crime proves to have been committed on the very verge of Allegheny county, a part of the murdered man's farm, as we learn, lying on this side of the county line.

The name of the victim to this latest fiendishness was Hugh Sproull, a wealthy and highly respectable farmer residing about three miles from Noblestown, near the Steubenville Railroad, and a short distance from the turnpike. Mr. Sproull was a bachelor and with him resided his sister, a maiden lady of about fifty years of age. For many years the two had lived alone together on the farm, and were known throughout the neighborhood. Mr. Sproull was noted among all classes for his quiet life, and the utmost respect was paid him by all. He had been born in the neighborhood, and had never been long away from the old homestead where he met his terrible fate. It was supposed that he was very wealthy, and stories were current of large sums of money which he had in his possession. The brother and sister occupied a two-story frame house erected several years ago, and a few feet in the rear of it stood the original log cabin, which was at first occupied as a dwelling, but now used as a kitchen.

Last Monday evening, about nine o'clock, while Mr. Sproull was sitting in the cabin with his sister, a rap was given at the door, and the old man opened it. He was met by three men, one of whom asked if they were on the road to the Hempfield Railroad track. Before Mr. Sproull could respond the sister told them that they were on the wrong road. The men then pushed the old gentleman back into the cabin, and entered it themselves. Two of the men seized and held Mr. Sproull while the third man, whose face was disguised by soot or some other substance, bade the sister, under penalty of death, to follow him, at the same time showing her a pistol. He took the poor woman into the frame building adjoining the cabin, up stairs into one of the bed rooms, and proceeded to secure her so that she could not give any alarm or interfere with their proceedings. He threw her on the bed, tied her feet to the foot posts, securing her hands behind her back, and then bound her firmly to the bed by passing a rope across her body and around the bed railing.

While this was being done, Miss Sproull states, she could hear the two other men below quarreling with her brother. They first demanded that he should give up to them all the money he had in the house. He said he had but one hundred dollars, and they could take that if they would go away, and not injure him or his sister. While talking with the robbers the old man said to them, so that the sister overheard him, "I know you both; you have been here before!" Had it not been for this unfortunate statement, Mr. Sproull might have escaped death, but he spoke his own sentence. The sister up stairs immediately heard loud oaths, a fall to the floor, the sound of blows, and groans. An interval of silence followed, when the ruffians came up stairs and into the room where she was tied to the bed, and commenced a search for money and other valuables. Old wooden chests, containing Mr. Sproull's papers, were broken open, and bureaus and drawers forced, but the robbers only succeeded in getting one hundred and twenty dollars and two silver watches—one hunting cased. The sister could give no further information, than that her brother had sums loaned out, the notes for which were in the chests, but that he never kept any large sum of money in the house.

After searching thoroughly, the question of murdering the unfortunate lady was discussed. One of the robbers, she states, exclaimed to the other—"California, we had better kill her or she will blow." The other replied, "I guess not, John, she don't know anything." The three murderers then left the house, having been there, according to Miss Sproull's judgment, about half an hour. She thinks it was about half-past nine o'clock when they left. The robbers left the lady, bound to the bed, as we have stated. There she remained, suffering untold agonies of mind and body until twilight of Tuesday evening. At that time an old man named Murphy, living near, came to the house on an errand. Receiving no answer to his knock he pushed open the door of the cabin, where Mr. Sproull and his sister usually sat in the evening; he noticed everything in confusion—the furniture thrown in disorder on the floor—but did not see the murdered man. He then heard cries from the up stairs apartment, when he went up and found the old lady tied to the bed as described, and in an almost exhausted condition. She was quickly released, and in company with Mr. Murphy proceeded to the room where her brother was supposed to be. Here, old Mr. Sproull was found stark dead by the side of the bed, his body partially covered with bed clothing. The robbers after they murdered him, it appears, could not bear the sight of their victim. A slight examination of his wounds was made, when it appeared evident that he had been beaten to death with a pair of tongs, while other wounds necessarily fatal, had been inflicted with a knife or dagger.

The alarm was immediately spread throughout the neighborhood, and in a short time a crowd was collected. While a portion of the farm lies in Allegheny county the farm house where the murder was committed is in Washington county. A justice of the peace summoned a Coroner's jury, and an examination was commenced, on Tuesday night, into the murder. Doctor Cook, of Noblestown, made an examination of the wounds, and reported twenty-one wounds on the body. Both temples had been mashed in by the heavy iron tongs, the scalp and face were cut and bruised by a knife and tongs, and the throat of the murdered man was also cut.

A verdict was returned that the murdered man came to his death by violence at the hands of three men unknown to the jury.

A trail of evidence was speedily discovered pointing to the fiends with unmistakable certainty. It will be recollected that the old man's declaration that the parties had been at his house before, and he knew them, was the signal for his murder. The sister also recognized two of the murderers as having been at the house, at the time referred to by Mr. Sproull, inquiring the price of cattle; but she said nothing and so escaped death. Mr. Bell, who keeps a tavern in Noblestown, states that about three weeks ago—near as he can fix it, the date was March 4th—two men breakfasted at his house, drank liberally, and inquired of him before leaving the road to Mr. Sproull's farm house, and asked a variety of questions as to Mr. S.'s habits, who lived with him, etc. A lad named Shane, saw the men on their way to Sproull's, after they had left the tavern, and was questioned by them as the landlord, Mr. Bell, had been. When they parted, they were going in the direction of Mr. Sproull's house. These two men were evidently the parties identified as engaged in the robbery, by Mr. Sproull and his sister.

Again: On the night of the murder, three men got off the accommodation train on the Pan Handle railroad at McDonald station, three or four miles from Mr. Sproull's house. They were particularly remarked by persons at the station, and moved off in the direction of Sproull's. At ten o'clock on the same night, more than an hour after the murder had been committed, three persons were seen coming from the direction of Sproull's. They took the railroad back, in the direction of Pittsburgh. These men are believed to be the murderers. Every effort is being made to apprehend them, and every Christian will pray that the efforts may succeed.

Officer Robert Hague, of the Independent Police in this city, was telegraphed concerning the murder on Wednesday morning, and visited the place. He returned yesterday, having been unsuccessful in finding any trace of the perpetrators.

Found Drowned.

Yesterday afternoon, at about a quarter before three o'clock, four young men named Joseph Handlon, Albert Stake, John Glunt and William Harper, were rowing in a skiff near the head of Hare's Island, when they discovered the body of a man lying in the water, face downwards, near the shore of the island, close to McCullough's saw mill. They pulled the corpse ashore and found it to be that of a man apparently twenty-five or thirty years of age. He wore a pair of black pantaloons, an undershirt, a checked flannel shirt and a pair of hob nailed boots. There was no clue to his identity. A man at the saw mill found, some three weeks ago, lying on a board pile near the mill, a coat, hat and belt, which are now supposed to have belonged to the deceased. The body appears to have been in the water about three weeks. Coroner Clawson held an inquest and a verdict of found drowned was rendered.

THE BUTLER COUNTY HOMICIDE.

Trial of John B. Adlington for the Murder of Sidney B. Cunningham and James H. Teeples, at Portersville.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, March 20, 1867.

A. H. Carroll, sworn—I helped to lay out Sidney B. Cunningham and place him in the coffin, at Wurtemburg. He was buried in the clothes he was murdered in.

Janie Gibson, recalled—It appears to me I saw Adlington throw his arm around some one's neck, and the man said, "hold on here, you are a little too fast." It was Teeple or Cunningham. This occurred in the sitting room.

The Commonwealth had a witness subpoened, but absent.

Defendant offered no witnesses, and so the testimony closed on both sides.

W. H. H. Riddle, District Attorney, opened the case. Two men had been killed; there had been a social party at the house of John Oliver, in Portersville, Butler county, on the night of the 24th of December, 1866. The deceased were there; not at first to take part in the festivities. They had created a difficulty in the early part of the evening, but it had been settled, and they took part in the dance. A difficulty then sprung up during which they were killed. The defendant had been arrested, and you, gentlemen, are sworn to try whether he is guilty of the murder of Cunningham, as charged. He then recapitulated the evidence: that defendant was seen with a knife in his hand and was heard to say, "I warn you," or, "I will warn you." He was the only man seen with a knife in his hand during the fight. He discanted at length upon the evidence, and argued logically that there was little doubt he was the one who struck the deadly blow. He had been over home but a short time before the fight, and if he did not have the knife in the early part of the evening, he must have obtained it at that time. He was in close quarters with Mr. Cunningham about the time the chair was raised, and the lamp was being passed out of the sitting room, and it must have been at that time that he struck the fatal blow. Immediately after Mr. Cunningham disappeared from the sitting room, the defendant left, passed through the north room and kitchen, out on the porch, for the purpose of secreting his knife, no doubt. Repeated his expressions, up stairs and in the bar-room, that "he didn't give a d—n how soon they died"—meaning Teeple and Cunningham. Such expressions were an evidence of his guilt. His expressions about being arrested, &c., it was argued evinced guilt. His assistance to the wounded, lending his handkerchief, &c., was only done to ward against suspicion. His wife's exclamations, when she called out, "Don't, John; oh, don't," meant something. She knew of something that was not disclosed here. He discanted upon the evidence at considerable length. When defendant went home he could not sleep; he had to come back to the scene of the murder, and to repeat the story in the New York Ledger, entitled "Hanging the Wrong Man." He should not labor the testimony, as he only intended to open the case, and would be followed by his experienced colleagues.

General J. N. Purviance, for defendant, then addressed the jury. He said a searching investigation of over nine days had failed to solve the profound mystery which surrounded this case. The whole transaction occupied but five minutes; there were chairs, pistols, knives, pokers, and tumblers used; there was great excitement and a large crowd in the fight. It is no wonder it could not be ascertained who struck the fatal blow.

First—The jury must be satisfied, beyond a reasonable doubt, of the guilt of the defendant before they are justified in rendering a verdict of guilty; and that if a reasonable doubt exists in the mind of the jury, it is their duty to render a verdict of not guilty.

Second—In a case of circumstantial evidence every material circumstance relied on by the Commonwealth forms in itself an independent issue; and the law requires each circumstance shall be established clearly and beyond a reasonable doubt. The circumstances should to a moral certainty actually exclude every hypothesis but the one proposed to be proved by the Commonwealth.

Third—If the mortal wound were inflicted—by whomsoever done—under the belief that it was necessary to save the life of a friend, it would be homicide in self defense.

Fourth—The possession of a knife by the defendant before the commission of the homicide, was received for the purpose of showing the defendant had the means inflicting such wounds as those found on the bodies of the deceased; but not as a fact from which it might be inferred that the defendant would have a tendency to commit the deed.

Fifth—The possession of a knife is not competent to be shown for the purpose of prejudicing the character of the defendant; or from which the jury might infer the defendant probably did the act.

Mr. Purviance referred to authorities in support of his points, and especially with reference to circumstantial evidence.

He discanted clearly upon the evidence. He said the jury were called upon here to say what not one single witness for the Commonwealth, on their oaths, could say; they were asked to say who stabbed Cunningham. No witness, out of some fifty examined, could tell who struck the fatal blow. If it were done under circumstances of self-defense, or protection of property and of individuals, or in the heat of passion, it could not be murder; but might be justifiable. A chain of circumstances must be unbroken, and must preclude the possibility that the stabbing could have been done in any other manner, or by any other person, than the one charged. He discanted upon the fact of the trouble these men occasioned; their size, their threats, their commencing the fight, all tending to alarm and anger those who were in the party, and who kept the house. He remarked on the conduct of the defendant after the fight. He did not flee away, but staid and rendered all the assistance in his power.

Mr. McCandless, for the defendant, wished the Court to instruct the jury on the following points:

First—If the jury believe from all the facts and evidence that the homicide was committed by the defendant (or any one close by) after Oliver was lying prostrate on the floor near the north room door, having been knocked down by Cunningham, who is proved to be a man of great strength, and while Cunningham had a chair raised or drawn to strike Oliver, and the defendant believed, and had reason to think, Cunningham was about to kill Oliver, inflicting the blow would be excusable homicide, and defendant must be acquitted.

Second.—If the jury believe the defendant committed the homicide at any time during the conflict, in the heat of passion, upon this sudden quarrel, without malice, it is manslaughter.

Third.—If the homicide was committed by the defendant while the fight was progressing between Oliver and Cunningham, or in any other combat then going on in the rooms: if defendant interfered on seeing a friend attacked by a stranger, it is manslaughter.

Fourth—That the jury are judges of both the law and the facts.

Mr. McCarthy, for defendant, addressed the jury at considerable length.

Mr. McCandless, on part of defence, cited the Court to law on the points which he had previously made.

Adjourned till nine A. M., to-morrow.

Curry Institute.

One of the educational places in our midst, which reflects much credit upon our city, is the Curry Institute, located at Nos. 52 and 54 St. Clair street. The summer term opens on the 8th proximo, and promises to be largely attended.

This institution, as now organized, embraces four separate Departments for the accommodation of four different classes of pupils, as follows: A Normal Department, for the education and training of pupils of both sexes, who wish to qualify themselves for teaching in our public schools. A Commercial Department, for the education of pupils of both sexes who wish to obtain a good English education at a moderate expense, or qualify themselves for the business pursuits of life. A Scientific Department, for the education of young ladies who wish to take an advanced course. The studies of this department embrace all the branches usually pursued in female seminaries. A Classical Department, for the education of pupils of both sexes, who wish to study the Latin and Greek languages and literature. We commend this well arranged and popular place of education to those seeking a plain or ornamental education. The system of imparting knowledge, in all branches, is perfect, while the faculty is learned and highly qualified for the discharge of their important duties.

In Difficulties.—Z. W. Miller is a grocer and claims that Anthony Weidman, Esq., owes him a bill. Yesterday he went to Mr. W's. office, and requested the payment of his bill. A "misunderstanding" ensued, which resulted in recourse to the law. Mr. W. made information before the Mayor, charging Mr. Miller with disorderly conduct. The case was held for a further hearing. Mr. Miller made information before Alderman McMasters charging Mr. Weidman with felonious assault and battery, alleging that defendant ordered him out of his office, and threatened to shoot him with a revolver, which he took out of a cupboard and cocked. The defendant was held for a hearing in one thousand dollars bail.

Sent to Jail.—Early in February Wm. H. Mackey, of Allegheny, made information before Alderman Donaldson, charging Alfred Tate, a youth, with malicious mischief. He alleged that the accused entered his paint shop through the roof and carried the stove out. A warrant was issued, but Tate was not arrested until yesterday, when in default of bail he was committed to jail for Court.

Relief for the Alabama Poor.

In Wednesday's issue we referred in our editorial columns to the presence in Pittsburgh of a strange gentleman soliciting pecuniary aid for the destitute in Alabama. As he was not properly credited, we cautioned our readers against rashly subscribing to the object. The Young Men's Christian Association immediately telegraphed to Gov. Patton, of Alabama, and a prompt response was received, stating that "Dr. Reeves is endorsed by the Governor and Legislature of the State." Yesterday the gentleman referred to again called upon us with the following communication, which we cheerfully publish:

TO THE CITIZENS OF PITTSBURGH:—I regret the necessity that compels me to leave immediately for Cincinnati, as I had fondly hoped to be able to accomplish considerable for my mission of mercy in this "Iron City." The highest Court of Law and Equity in the universe has long since decided that "it is more blessed to give than receive." The same Court also decided, that "he that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord." Surely there there can be no better plan to restore national harmony, than to "feed the hungry, clothe the naked, and keep ourselves unspotted from the world." I will remain in the city of Cincinnati a few days, and any donation for the purpose indicated, forwarded to me, at that city, shall be faithfully applied to relieving the wants of the most needy in Southern Alabama, without regard to politics, religion, or color.

C. S. REEVES, M. D.,
of Montgomery, Alabama.

Dr. Reeves' card was under the seal of the Young Men's Christian Association, and was accompanied by the following recommendation from that creditable body:

Dr. Reeves, mentioned above, comes to us accredited by Governor Patton and twenty members of the Legislature of Alabama.

His mission is a worthy one, and should appeal to our sympathies, and his call for aid should be responded to liberally by Pittsburgh. We have never been behind any other city in other matters of charity. Let us not be behind in this.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association on Wednesday evening, it was resolved that the ministers of the various churches of the two cities be requested to lift collections in their respective churches on the coming Sabbath for this object, and place the proceeds in the hands of the Association. The Association will undertake to see that the money is properly applied.

Oliver McClintock, President, at No. 23 Fifth street; W. B. Edwards, Treasurer, at Calhoun & Edwards', on Wood street, and A. B. Riggs, Secretary, at the rooms of the Association, No. 23 Fifth street, are authorized to receive contributions.

Hearing in the Wilkinsburg Case.

Yesterday morning John Richmond, of Wilkinsburg, brother-in-law of James McQuade, came to the Mayor's office to make inquiry concerning his brother-in-law. Richmond's name was in the same information with McQuade and he was accordingly arrested and locked up for a hearing. Meantime some officers had gone to Mill's brick yard, between Wilkinsburg and Torrence Station, for Richmond, another brother-in-law, who is engineer at the yard, and who was also informed against. They found him and brought him in without difficulty. Robert is the one who was hurt in the head, and was supposed at first to have been shot. It turns out, however, that he was only struck severely with a club in the hands of one of the officers. A hearing in the case of the three prisoners was had yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, Dr. Perchment, the prosecutor, appearing as the only witness. From the evidence, it appears that the information was based on the fact that a little girl, an adopted daughter of Mr. McQuade, told Mrs. Owens, a colored woman, that her uncle, Robert Richmond, had such a beautiful gold watch and ring, which he had just got and which he had locked up to keep until he should go away. She said that she had been told not to say a word about it. As Dr. P. had lost articles similar to those mentioned, the circumstance was thought to be suspicious enough to warrant an information. This was the only evidence, and at the conclusion of the hearing the parties were all discharged. The prisoners stated that they took the officers to be burglars at the time of the attempted arrest, and so resisted them.

Homicide in Fayette County.

On Thursday of last week an unfortunate affair occurred in Henry Clay township, Fayette county, resulting in the death of a young man named Thomas Sherry (sometimes called Recknor.) The report is that the two young men, Thomas Sherry and Jacob Huff, met at the house of John Moore, all three of them having been soldiers, and were apparently in a good humor, going through the manual of arms, using Moore's Enfield rifle, which was loaded, alternately giving and executing the commands. When Sherry gave the command "fire," Huff pulled the trigger, and discharged the gun. The ball passed through the body of Sherry and lodged in a log of the house, causing his death two days after.

Huff had a hearing before John W. Lancaster, Esq., and was committed to jail. He claims that the shooting was accidental. On the other hand it is reported that he had previously and about the time of the fatal occurrence made threats against the life of the deceased.

They had served together in the army, being members of Company D. 3d Maryland Regiment, and only lived a mile apart when at home. Huff is between twenty-one and twenty-two years of age. He was deeply affected when informed of the death of Sherry.

Lincoln University.

A meeting in reference to this Institution will be held in the Second Presbyterian Church, corner of Penn and Irwin streets, on next Sabbath evening, the 24th, at 7½ o'clock.

The speakers will be amongst others, Major General Gregory, Assistant Commissary of the Freedmen's Bureau, and Rev. J. M. Dickey, D. D.

Lincoln University is located near Oxford, Chester county, Pennsylvania. It was incorporated in 1854, under the name of Ashman Institute, and is designed exclusively for the education of colored youth. Its charter was enlarged in 1866, and the name changed to that of our martyred President. Its field of usefulness has been greatly enlarged and its students increased since the rebellion. About eighty are now there, and others anxious to receive its benefits will be admitted, when means and the buildings are fully prepared. Three endowments are promised, conditioned on four being made up. Five thousand dollars of the fourth are subscribed. The friends of the colored man should feel such an interest in the welfare of the race, as fully, and with ease to secure this endowment, and are earnestly invited to encourage this effort by their presence at the meeting.

The Robbery by the Forty Thieves.—The names of the men robbed on the Wheeling train on Wednesday morning by the gang of thieves and pickpockets, who left Allegheny on the train, are Henry Meichell and John Myers. Mr. Meichell lives in Indiana township, in this county, and was robbed of nine dollars in money, and a note for $115 on Robert Roche. Mr. Myers lives at Salem, Ohio, and lost fifteen dollars in money, and a $50 bond of the new issue of United States Seven-Thirties. The number of the bond is 25,332. The bond was probably disposed of at an early period, and the note is worth nothing to the present holder, so he might as well send it back.

The Grain Elevator will be less a place of terror. On Wednesday morning early, a short time after the party of pickpockets left the Allegheny depot on the train, "Snibbs" Arnold, Jack Young, Wash Freese and two strangers—probably the five who got off the train that was starting with the other crowd—were driven out of a tavern on Liberty street. They took their departure the same evening on the train for Mansfield, Ohio. We hope the Vigilance Committee won't order them away.

The Case of Folger.—The Washington Reporter says: "We learn that the Supreme Court, after an inspection of the record in the Folger case, has refused to allow a writ of error to remove it to that tribunal, not seeing anything in the ruling of the Court below that needed revision. Whatever hope the prisoner may have indulged on this score, no one, save perhaps himself and counsel, expected the Supreme Court to interfere. There is, therefore, nothing now left to him but to prepare to meet his end.

An Enterprising Black Man.—John Owens, a one armed colored man, is a specimen of enterprise. He is employed at Mill's patent pressure brick yard, between Williamsburg and Torrence Station, and supports comfortably a wife and six children by digging clay for bricks with his one hand. Men who are easily discouraged might gain a little back bone by contemplating this one armed clay digger.

Disorderly House.—Edward Martin made information yesterday before Alderman Lynch, charging Geo. and Ellen Roe with keeping a disorderly house in Mattox Court in the Fourth ward. The parties were held for trial. Mary Martin also charges Edward with surety of the peace, alleging that he came into her kitchen and threatened to shoot her with a pistol he held. He gave bail for court.

Released.—John Mooney, convicted of selling liquor without license, and ordered to pay the costs, was confined in jail for three months in default of payment. Yesterday he took the benefit of the insolvent act and was released.

Assaulted a Girl.—Mary Ebury, employed as a servant in the family of Theodore Snyder, at the corner of Ross and Second streets, yesterday made information before Alderman Lynch charging Theodore with assault and battery, alleging that he struck her twice as she sat sewing. Theodore confesses to the deed, but says she provoked him. He was held for court.

The Lawrence County Homicide Case will be taken up in the Criminal Court after the conspiracy case now on trial is disposed of—perhaps on Monday next. The deceased received his injury in Lawrence county, but died in the Mercy Hospital in this city, and hence the jurisdiction applies to Allegheny county.

The Soldiers' Monument Association held a meeting yesterday at City Hall. They passed a resolution petitioning Councils to take such special action as will give all the engine companies the privilege of soliciting votes for the magnificent hose carriage to be voted for at the approaching fair.

A Few Days Ago Mr. Rensalaer Walworth, of Titusville, was instantly killed by trying to jump off a train of cars, at Oneida, on the New York Central railroad. The engineer stepped on the skirt of his coat as he was jumping, and he was drawn back under the train.

The Vigilance Committee of Mansfield hold meetings and publish proceedings. They tender votes of thanks to the Regulators for the prompt manner in which they make individuals leave, in obedience to resolutions passed by the Committee.

Wade It.—People passing along Second street, at and in the vicinity of the railroad crossing, are obliged to wade through mud and slush inches in depth. The Street Commissioner is inquired for.

Arrested on Process.—John McKay, charged with the larceny of a box of chickens in the market, some time ago, was yesterday arrested on a process and lodged in jail.

Jimmy Hamill will be invited to make the eighth member in a crew forming by Yale and Harvard Colleges to visit the Paris Exposition.

Three Members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, at Uniontown, died last week. Their ages averaged seventy five years.

It is Rumored that several of the iron mills will resume work next week. We place credit in the rumor.

Over Two Millions of dollars have been kept out of circulation in Pittsburgh, by the present strike.

Better Order.—The city is very quiet, and no police news worthy of report is to be obtained.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated by the Catholic Literary Association of Titusville with cold water.

W. A. Gildenfenny, 45 Fifth street, has sent us a copy of The Lady's Friend for April.

E. J. Roberts, Esq., has been elected Cashier of the Coalmen's Trust Company.

Wanted.—See advertisement of situation wanted by a female, in to-day's paper.

Prof. Blot will not blur Pittsburgh cooking. He will not come here.

Yesterday was a mean, disagreeable day of snow, rain and darkness.

A Verdict in the Adlington trial may be expected this week.

Horse Thieves are operating in Washington county.

A Party is being formed in Ebensburg to emigrate west.

The Gymnasium is in a flourishing condition.

Lafayette Hall was thrown open last night.

Wild Cats are numerous in Indiana county.

Johnstown is to have a steam fire engine.

Cleveland is to have a building association.

Now is the time to trim your trees.

Good Sleighing at Cresson.

Court Reports on Fourth Page.

FROM ST. LOUIS.

Absconding Sheriff Arrested—Extensive Burglary—Lawyers and the Test Oath—Hard Rubber Patent Case Decided Against Dentists.

ST. LOUIS, March 21.—John Omsby, Sheriff of Adair county, who absconded with $20,000 of the State money, a short time ago, was recently arrested at Little Rock, Arkansas, and brought back. It is probable that most of the stolen money will be recovered.

An extensive burglary was committed yesterday morning at the tailoring establishment of Stephen Cunning, Olive street. It was entered and about one thousand dollars worth of cloths, &c., carried off.

The State Supreme Court has rescinded the order requiring lawyers to take the test oath prescribed by the constitution.

The Goodyear Hard Rubber Patent case, which has been before the United States Circuit Court for two days, was decided this evening by Judge Treat, granting an injunction against the Dentists using said patent, with the privilege to them to dissolve the same on giving $2000 in bonds to keep an account to pay such sum as may be awarded on a final hearing and costs.

THE NATIONAL DEBT.

From time to time the Secretary of the Treasury indulges the pleasantry of making exhibits of the finances, showing a steady diminution of the national debt. Bondholders are delighted, and tax-payers comforted. Members of Congress urge sweeping reductions of taxation, on the double plea of present relief, and of leaving posterity a legacy so that it may have a vivid remembrance of the late tributions of this generation. Newspapers debate the question solemnly, whether it is better to pay off the debt in a quarter of a century, or to occupy a hundred years in the cancellation. All these assertions or insinuations are alike false and misleading. The national indebtedness, instead of lessening, is increasing from month to month; and twenty years hence, instead of being less than it now is, is more likely to be doubled.

The vast expenditures made indispensable by the war, the comparative ease with which unprecedented sums were raised by resorting to paper money and other forms of credit, and the docility of the people under taxation so excessive as to be without a parallel, have engendered a lavishness in appropriations which is absolutely reckless. All suggestions of prudence and economy are contemptuously dismissed as belonging to the era before the Rebellion, and not deserving of thought, much less of practice, in these later times.

When Baron Von Beust was called, after the recent great defeat of Austria, to direct its administration, he found the expenditures demanding a sum vastly beyond the income, and the national credit so impaired that additional loans were impossible. He began by resolutely cutting down expenses. He commenced with the Emperor, and went down through all the Civil List, cutting a third from all salaries or emoluments. He stopped all the leaks in the Treasury, and made all new enterprises wait. By these vigorous and sensible measures, he put an entirely fresh aspect upon the affairs of the Empire.

At Washington the rule seems to be to increase all salaries, to hunt up as many schemes as possible upon which money may be spent, to extend the public credit so far as to determine at what precise point it will give way, to enhance prices by marvellous deluges of irredeemable paper promises, and to paralyze domestic industry by refusing to protect it from ruinous competition with the lower paid industry of the Old World. Would that the United States had a Von Beust!

IMMIGRATION.

Texas and Louisiana have taken at least one step in the right direction. They have each established Bureaus in Europe with a view to turning the tide of emigration, particularly from Germany, into those States. Before the war, large bodies of Germans went into Texas, taking with them some means, and much industry, intelligence and perseverance. By instinct and conviction they inclined to the side of Loyalty and Freedom. During the war they were badly treated. In many instances the most shameful barbarities were practiced upon them. Reports of these transactions found their way across the Atlantic. The interposition of a miracle would have been required effectually to stop their flight. It is not likely they lost in magnitude or coloring during the voyage. In consequence, when the war closed, the tide of German immigration did not return to Texas but set towards Missouri. It is alleged that the authorities of Missouri, or, at least, persons having a deep pecuniary interest in the rapid settlement of its unoccupied lands, took special pains to put these prejudicial reports into the worst shape and keep them in circulation. There may be something in this, but not much. The unmixed truth was so appalling that the most inventive faculties could not add much to its horrors. The story is an old one. Crimes inflicted by the Texans upon their German neighbors, came home to roost. It will require time and labor to wipe up the unfavorable impression made by undoubted facts; but we trust this will be done, and in good faith.

What Texas and Louisiana want, in common with all the Southern States, is an intelligent population, knowing how to work, and not unwilling to put that knowledge to practical use. With an accession of that sort, such as their resources of climate, soil and minerals invite, a new and better career will open before them.

The Charleston Mercury takes a very just view of the position of the Southern States under the Reconstruction Bill. It reminds its readers that nothing is submitted by it to the discretion of the South. Terms are not offered for them to accept or reject, as they please. The Constitutional Amendment of 1866 was thus offered to them and they rejected it; but this bill marks out certain things which are to be done, with or without the consent of the South. State Conventions are to be called—delegates are to be elected by universal suffrage, a new Constitution is to be formed and submitted to the popular vote. All these things are fixed facts. All that any Southern man has to decide is whether he will vote or not. The Mercury says that it is simply a question whether the great body of the people shall take part in framing the Constitution or leave the whole business to colored voters enfranchised by the bill. This view of the case will doubtless control the action of the great mass of the Southern people.

The Chambersburg Repository speaks of one of the Allegheny Senators in the following handsome and just manner:

"Thomas J. Bigham, of Allegheny, is the most experienced and one of the ablest legislators in either body. He has served six or seven years in the House at different periods, and has just closed a full term in the Senate. He is one of the most upright and earnest men in the legislature, and a foeman worthy of any one's steel in the hard blows of debate. He is perhaps more intimately acquainted in detail with all questions of State policy than any of his associates, and is untiring in his efforts for the public welfare. He will doubtless be re-elected without a serious contest, and eminently deserves to be."

Mr. Stevens's proposition to enforce extensive confiscations of property at the South, meets with little favor from members of Congress or the press of the country. It is much better to devise things that make for permanent peace, than to be searching out fresh means for alienation.

President Johnson is said to be a candidate for the United States Senate, after his term as Chief Executive expires.

AGRICULTURE.

The Monthly Report of the Agricultural Department for February contains tables showing the average yield per acre of cereals in the respective States last year. In wheat the highest average was in Nebraska, at 26 bushels. In Pennsylvania the average was only 11 bushels. Of all the Middle and Eastern States Vermont was highest, going up to 20 bushels. Kansas was highest in Rye, yielding 26 bushels. Pennsylvania stood at 13 bushels. Vermont led the Eastern and Middle States, standing at 18 bushels. In Barley Nebraska was ahead, yielding 35 bushels. Pennsylvania stood at 20. Vermont went to 29; ahead of all the Eastern and Middle States. In Oats, Nebraska was foremost, standing at 47. Vermont stood next, at 39. Pennsylvania, 33. In corn, New Jersey was highest, at 43. Pennsylvania stood at 34. Illinois at 31. Indiana at 36. Ohio at 38. Those 100 bushels to the acre, that used to be bragged about, did not appear. In Buckwheat, Vermont was highest, at 30. Pennsylvania was at 21. In Potatoes, Florida led, showing an average of 187 bushels. Maine averaged 156, Vermont 148, Pennsylvania 99, while Colorado went to 175, and Utah to 163.

In cereals, the average yield in this country is one hundred per cent. less than in England, and fifty per cent. less than in France.

The New Orleans Picayune publishes a rich morsel for its Southern readers in the details of an extraordinary elopement case. Cutting a very long story short, two young ladies of Baton Rouge of pleasing appearance, good education and respectable connection, fell in love with ebony servants employed about their homes and eloped. In order to avoid detection the girls donned male attire and, with their black suitors, succeeded in escaping to New Orleans, where a telegram ordering the arrest of the party had preceded them. The girls admitted long criminal intimacy with their colored escorts, and each declared her resolve to marry the man of her choice, despite of the opposition of their anti-miscegenation friends.

The Legislature of Illinois, at its late session, having passed a law making eight hours a legal day's work, the master mechanics and builders of Chicago held a meeting on Saturday and determined to employ by the hour.

Only think of it. Linen suits, parasols and wide-brimmed sombreros, with mercury up to ninety in the shade, at New Orleans, before the middle of March! While we are freezing here, they are melting there.

There is some talk that Ex-Senator Foster, of Connecticut, will receive the nomination of Minister to Austria, in place of Mr. Motley, resigned.

Gen. Sterling Price, the rebel soldier, has gone into the produce and commission business at St. Louis.

A Story in Latin.

Old Ante Bellum told Merum Sal da Ante Lucem would be hum on Mundi, and would bring Sal Atticum along, also the Sempers, Fidelis and Felix. Uno Felix has a falsi (made of glass); last autem he drove a pair of mules tandem, Oh! mulier hic! His mules were fractious—he couldn't quietum, annis "dutch getting up," he went to damnum, which did no good, but made a ridiculus mus of it.

Old Ante Bellum had been visiting the sic, sic Volo and sic Jubeo, who had a great many measles, and, although convalescing, they had a fumo "of the same sort left." She took adhuck (a canvas-back) tuum, and some scelera, they idem with delight and et um with currunt jam. Laxet et ingens, but Vol and Jube, not being cannibals, preferred adhuck with scelera and currunt jam.

Thus Merum Sal—"I've been to a parte, ante, so has my brother dictu, and uda died with laughter to see the waterfalls the gals wore on their necs. They sed nomen could detect the real from the false; but I can telum nilor morning—so can dictu. He's a trump for Sartum; facti dono a smarter boy; mori see of boys, mori think so. He owed money; he odit and he paid it. When the meadows were green he modum; when the boys were fighting he was sure to partem; when the mumps were 'round he cautem; he raises much potatoes and he's dignum cos he's solem for a dum good price. Ohe's opto snuf uno! and further sed not Merum Sal.

—The pay and allowance of the gentlemen who wear stars and shoulder straps in our army on its peace footing are reported to be as follows:

General Grant, $18,120; Lieut-Gen. Sherman, $14,814; Major Gen. Halleck, $7,717; Major-Gen. Meade, $7,717; Maj.-Gen. Sheridan, $7,717; Major General Thomas, $7,717; Brigadier-Gen. McDowell, $5,517; Brigadier Gen. Rosecrans, $5,517; Colonels, $4,500; Lieutenant Colonels, $3,994; Majors, $3,765; Captains, $3,049; First Lieutenants, $2,713; and Second Lieutenants, $2,658.

—An American visitor to the Italian opera in Paris has been shocked. He writes: "It is where the ladies come to lounge, prattle, see and be seen. The toilette is forced to the extreme. One might easily fancy himself in the tropics if he should awaken from a dream. I am not so fastidious as to object to a lady's unbosoming herself to me, particularly if she has any crushing weight on her chest; but I confess to a want of taste in preferring to deny myself the pleasure of peering down a lady's back."

—Commissioner Bogy has completed a treaty with the Chippewa Indians of the Mississippi bands of Minnesota, of which Hole-in-the-Day is the principal chief. By this treaty the Chippewas agree to cede to the United States a portion of their lands in Minnesota, and receive in exchange an equal portion of land in another part of the State. The object of making the exchange is that the Indians may have better farming lands, they having expressed a desire to devote themselves to agricultural pursuits.

—A citizen of St. Charles, Mo., has invented an instrument which he calls "velocimetre," intended to measure the velocity of machinery. It is said that it will intimate to the engineer, at every second of time, the existing rate of speed at which his machinery is running. Adjusted to a locomotive, it will inform him, with mathematical precision, the number of miles per hour he is making over the rails.

—A project is before the Assembly in Albany to annex Brooklyn, Astoria, Flushing, Newtown, Hunter's Point and other villages to New York City. It includes the scheme of carving out an entirely new channel, to be called the New East river, as a relief to New York commerce, the proposed channel-way to be five and a quarter miles long, thirty-three hundred feet wide and forty feet deep.

—Mr. Roebling, architect of the Niagara and Cincinnati suspension bridges, is about to undertake to build one between New York and Brooklyn at Fulton Ferry. The bridge will be twice as long and twice as wide as that across the Ohio, supported by an immense pier in the centre. This vast undertaking Mr. Roebling proposes to make the crowning achievement of his life.

—A lady, who was married last Friday, when asked why she consummated such important business on such an unlucky day, responded that she had married on every other day in the week, and had always made such a poor fist of it, that she concluded to test hangmen's day, hoping the halter wouldn't slip this time.

The Retiring Senators.

The present State Senate is composed of 21 Republicans and 12 Democrats, giving the Republicans a majority of 9. With the close of the present session eleven Senators will retire by expiration of their terms, as follows:

|---|---|
| 3. C. M. Donovan, D. | 14. John Walls, D. |
| 5. Horace Royer, R. | 21. Louis W. Hall, R. |
| 6. Oliver P. James, D. | " Kirk Haines, R. |
| 7. Geo. B. Schall, D. | 25. T. J. Bingham, R. |
| 8. J. De Puy Davis, D. | 29. M. B. Lowry, R. |
| 9. Wm. M. Randall, D. | |

Of the retiring Senators, six are Democrats and five Republicans, and any ordinary election would return men of like political faith in all the districts but the 14th, (Lycoming, Union and Snyder,) where a Republican should be chosen, and thus add two to the Republican majority in the next Senate.—Chambersburg Republican.

BEHIND THE LIGHTHOUSE.

Old fogyism is not quite dead. People are still to be found who think that health is promoted by depletion! Was there ever such false logic! Nature is the grand antagonist of disease, and the depletors propose to prostrate Nature, in order, one might suppose, to give the enemy a double chance at the life of the patient! The true practice is so to invigorate the vital powers as to render them an overmatch for the elements of disease. This can be done with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Of all vegetable tonics they are the most powerful and the most genial. At this season when even the strongest organizations are liable to be affected by the alternations of stringent cold and malarious moisture, this inestimable protective medicine is especially needed. Persons predisposed to biliousness, dyspepsia, constipation, intermittent fever, or any of the complaints which cold weather superinduces or aggravates, should take it regularly throughout the Winter and Spring months. It is absolutely pure and harmless.

THE INDIANS AND THE WHITE PINE.

Although long known to the aborigines of America, Dr. George W. Swett, of Boston, has brought into shape for convenient use, a most valuable preparation called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which for a number of years has given great satisfaction in the cure of all those ailments dependent on an inflamed or irritated condition of the mucous membranes of the animal organism. For gravel, diabetes, dropsy, chronic bronchitis, nasal catarrh, constipation, when depending on a debilitated state of the intestines. It is one of the most valuable discoveries recently added to pharmaceutical medicine. It is likewise a most valuable compound for diseases of the kidneys and bladder generally, as any one can satisfy himself upon a single trial. Every one knows the healing virtue of the white pine for sores and ulcers, but Dr. Swett has gone to work and prepared from the sweet inside bark of that valuable tree a compound that will meet every indication where the pine would be valuable.

It is confidently recommended for the following ailments:
Diseases in young or middle aged people;
Diabetes in old people;
Stoppage of the Urine;
The same difficulty in children during the night;
Gravel, Kidney Trouble in old people;
Ulcerated Kidneys, Ulcerated Bladder;
Discharge of mucus, or pus, or blood from the bladder;
Bright's Disease of the Kidneys;
Pain in the Kidneys or Small of the Back;
Pain in the Bladder, Heat and Scalding;
Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND.

Agricultural Land Scrip
FOR SALE.

The Board of Commissioners now offer for sale 320,000 acres of Agricultural College Land Scrip, being the balance of the Scrip granted to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the endowment of Agricultural Colleges in this State.

Proposals for the purchase of this Land Scrip, addressed to "The Board of Commissioners of Agricultural Land Scrip," will be received at the Surveyor General Office, at Harrisburg, until 12 o'clock M.,

On Wednesday, April 10, 1867.

This land may be located in any State or Territory by the holders of the scrip upon any of the unappropriated lands (except mineral lands) of the United States, which may be subject to sale at private entry. Each piece of scrip represents a quarter section of one hundred and sixty acres, is issued in blank, and will be transferable, without endorsement or formal assignment. The blank need not be filled until the scrip is presented for location and entry, when the party holding it can fill the blank and enter the land in his own name. Bids must be made as per acre, and no bids will be received for less than one quarter section.

The Scrip will be issued immediately on the payment of the money to the Surveyor General. On all bids for a less quantity than 40,000 acres, one-third of the purchase money must be paid within ten days, and the remaining two-thirds within thirty days after notification of acceptance of the bid or bids by the Board of Commissioners.

FRIDAY, MARCH 22, 1867.

Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad—Adjourned Meeting of the Stockholders—The Annual Report.

Pursuant to adjournment, the stock and bondholders of the P., F. W. & C. Railway, met yesterday morning at the general office of the Company, on Penn street. James S. Craft, Esq., President of the meeting, called it to order, after which Gen. G. W. Cass, the President of the road, submitted his annual report. In doing so he took occasion to thank the stockholders for their great indulgence and co-operation with him during the long period he had served them.

THE ANNUAL REPORT.

Statement of the net income and the proper charges on the same:

| | |
|---|---|
| The net income from opening the main line | $2,319,531 02 |
| From opening New Castle and Beaver Valley branch | 55,460 56 |
| Total income from road | $2,374,991 58 |
| Deduct from which: | |
| Interest on mortgage debt | $870,361 93 |
| Sinking Fund | 111,678 67 |
| Amount due C. & P. on contract for division earnings in 1866 and balance due in 1864 | 209,048 06 |
| | $1,198,083 65 |
| Balance for Dividend Account | 1,176,902 92 |

Which is equal to a dividend of 11⅝ per cent, with a surplus sufficient to pay the income tax on the same.

Nearly one-half of the falling off of the passenger earnings arose from loss of the movement of soldiers, which has reduced the earnings from over one-half million of dollars in 1865, to $93,000 in 1866.

A reference to the details of the freight traffic will show that the falling off in receipts from that source for the past five months of the year was $348,302 37, while there was an actual increase in the last eight months of the year, of $316,862 61, leaving a deficiency for the year of $31,485 76, as stated above. This difference in favor of the early part of the year 1865, was due to the continued comparatively high prices at that time for transportation, as compared with the gradual decrease following the close of the war.

The second noticeable feature is that while gross income fell off over one million of dollars, the operating expenses were only diminished $57,829 04, and this diminution in the operating expenses is even less than the reduction in taxes caused by the abrogation of the two and a half per cent. Federal tax on freight earnings, so that the expenses incurred in earning $7,467,217 56 in the past year were practically the same as the expenses of earning $8,480,062 56 in 1865.

This unfavorable feature in the result of the operations of the road for the year, will be found to be greatly mitigated on an examination of the details of the business expenses and income of the property. Your attention is invited to the report of the officers in detail, and a close and intelligent scrutiny of them will satisfy you of the value of your property, and, we trust, convince you that it is fairly managed.

While the earnings of the road for transporting freight in the year 1865 and 1866 were very nearly equal, the quantity of freight transported, and the condition of movement varied materially in these years. A comparison of the movement of freight tonnage in 1865 and 1866, shows an increase during the latter year of twenty-three two-tenths per cent., and what is more gratifying, it is all from the increased local traffic of the road, for as the foreign tonnage fell off 29,575 tons, the local tonnage increased 212,772 tons, or nearly sixty per cent.

The report shows a great reduction on the working expenses per ton on the movement of tonnage. In view of the active competion, and continued high prices of labor and material, with the monthly visits of the tax-gatherer, the board believe the results to be as favorable as most of the leading railway lines of the country.

In operating the New Castle & Beaver Valley Railroad, this company furnishes all the equipment and pays all the operating expenses. All new capital is to be furnished by the lessee. The only capital invested by this company is estimated to be about $130,000. To this estimate the profit derived by this company from operating the road was 42 86-100 per cent. of the capital.

The Lawrence Railroad Company have completed that road to a connection with the Cleveland and Mahoning road two miles east of Youngstown. Further expenditures will be required before we are able to accommodate the large business offering to this new line. The Lawrence company has the means provided necessary to make this improvement.

The inequality of the operations of this contract appears greater than it is. Thus far the arrangement has proved salutary, and should be permanent.

The Grand Rapids & Indiana Railroad Company have effected such arrangements as will secure the early completion of its line from Fort Wayne to the Straits of Mackinaw, three hundred and forty miles in length.

The American Central Railroad Company did but little last year towards the building of that line. Active operations have now commenced. When completed, this road will give the shortest line from your road to Omaha, the eastern terminus of the Union Pacific Railroad.

An agreement has been concluded between this company and the A. & G. W. R. R. Co., lessee of the Cleveland and Mahoning R. R., for an interchange of the local business of the roads, thus forming a through line between Pittsburgh and Cleveland. To the citizens of Pittsburgh and those of the Mahoning valley, the opening of this new line is of the utmost importance. A lease of the Lawrence R. R. has not yet been agreed upon, but will be very soon.

Under the modified contract for the division of joint earnings with the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad Company, there was paid by the Company, out of the earnings of this Company, $163,914 64, for the past year, also an additional sum of $45,133.42, on account of military earnings in 1865.

The extension of the line of road across Iowa to the Missouri River at Council Bluffs opposite Omaha has just been accomplished. The opening of this line this spring will be a marked epoch in the history of Chicago and must give new strength and growth to your interest.

Since the reorganization of your present corporation, there has been expended for permanent capital nearly $8,500,000, being more by thirty per cent. than the whole share capital, at the time this expenditure commenced. During this period the business of the road has increased to a wonderful extent.

The report then refers to the present value of the property now owned by the company, and to the flattering prospects of its further enhancement by the opening up and development of the country through which it is brought in connection. It then proceeds to discuss at length the question of increasing the capital stock of the company so as to secure means for the construction of a double track, by which the road will be able to afford increased accommodation for business. The report argues in favor of such a course, presents the benefits which would arise therefrom, and refers to the past management of the affairs as an evidence of the security of such an expenditure as a permanent dividend paying investment.

The report concludes as follows: "The Board desire to express their satisfaction with the able manner the Chief Executive officers and principal Assistants have discharged their duties, and the faithful manner in which the employees generally have performed theirs."

On motion of Mr. Dill, the report was accepted and adopted as read.

Mr. Dill offered the following, which was adopted.

Resolved, That when the meeting adjourns it will be adjourned to meet at such time and place as may hereafter be designated by the President, on notice of ten days, to be published in the usual manner, for the purpose of considering such detailed estimates as may be submitted by the Board of Directors, for additional equipment and permanent improvements proposed to be made to the Railroad, and of determining to what extent and in what mode the shareholders will provide the means therefor by increase of capital stock or otherwise.

The meeting then adjourned.

COURT REPORTS,

Oyer and Terminer, &c.

Before Hon. James P. Sterrett.

This Court met Thursday morning, at nine o'clock, and proceeded with jury trials.

THE TIMBER CASE.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Henry Forbes and William Yates, indicted for the larceny of timber belonging to the Allegheny Valley Railroad, was resumed, and occupied the greater part of the morning session. The jury were unable to agree upon a verdict and were discharged. Defendants were ordered to renew their recognizances.

LARCENY OF A GOLD WATCH.

Ella McClafferty, a young woman, residing in the Sixth ward, was brought in on process to answer a charge of larceny in feloniously taking from Capt. J. P. Scott, of the towboat Hero, a gold watch valued at $250 and a chain worth $50. The prosecutor, Capt. Scott, was the only witness called in the case. He visited the house of defendant in December last, in company with a friend, afterwards went there alone, and subsequently went another time, but for an entirely different purpose than on the two previous occasions, having during the interval between the first and second visit obtained a warrant for the arrest of the defendant. It appeared that on the second friendly call, Captain Scott was deprived of his watch and chain by the defendant, she taking it from his pocket, observed by him, he making no objection at the time, at least not strenuously resisting the taking. He did not so say, but from what followed it was fair to presume that he was induced to prosecute and cause the arrest of the defendant by her refusing to return the watch and chain, which he has not seen from that time until the present. After taking the watch she ran into an adjoining room, and shortly afterward the prosecutor left the house, going to a magistrates office and making information for larceny. For the defence the taking was not denied, and the question being asked as to whether or not he bestowed the watch upon the defendant, the prosecutor replied in the negative, and considered that the nature of his business at the house was not germain to the case. The Court said that if the jury believed the prosecutor's statement the case was a very plain one of guilt. To the reporter it seemed "as plain as a pike staff." The jury, however, found a verdict of "not guilty," and the defendant was discharged.

CONSPIRACY AND CHARGE TO INDICT.

The next case taken up, and which occupied the remainder of the Court session, was that of the Commonwealth vs. Alexander Moffitt and William Dawson, charged on oath of Isaac Thompson, of Washington county, with conspiracy to charge and indict. The indictment sets forth, in substance, that on May 16th, 1866, the defendants unlawfully and maliciously conspired to have charged, in the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania, Isaac Thompson with having lately before had in his possession counterfeit United States notes, and that in pursuance of such conspiracy did upon their oaths falsely charge and accuse Thompson, before United States Commissioner Sproul, with having had in his possession and passed three counterfeit United States twenty dollar notes. Moffitt was alone on trial. Dawson has decamped, having been, as alleged by defense, spirited away. The case is considered of great importance, and, as will be observed by the counsel engaged, promises to be tried with exceeding ability. The Commonwealth is represented by Thomas M. Marshall, Jacob H. Miller and District Attorney Duff; the defense by Marshall Swartzweider and James H. Hopkins. The indictment containing six counts, three for conspiracy to charge and three for conspiracy to indict, Mr. Swartzweider inquired upon what the prosecution would rely. Colonel Duff replied that they would rely upon all the counts. The indictment is found under the 127th section of the Penal Code, read by Mr. Miller, providing that if any two or more persons shall conspire or agree falsely and maliciously to charge or indict any other person, or cause or procure him to be charged or indicted, in any court of criminal jurisdiction, the persons so offending shall be guilty of misdemeanor, and on conviction be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, and to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding three years, at the discretion of the Court.

Alexander Aiken, of the National Hotel, testified that Dawson and Moffitt were at his house on the 15th of May last, and stopped over night; Moffitt requested that Dawson be placed in a room with some good man, and selected a partner for himself; could not say that they came to the hotel together, but from their conversation judged they did; settled their bills at different times; Dawson was under arrest; saw no officer with him; Moffitt said he had him under arrest.

R. B. Carnahan, United States District Attorney, testified that he remembered the fact of Dawson being before the United States Commissioner in the Spring of 1866, and of his making several informations for passing counterfeit National currency, among others one against Thompson. Remembered seeing Moffitt about at the time. He had no knowledge of Moffitt having authority to act for the United States Government, in any way, and did not remember of Moffitt stating that he was so acting. On cross examination Mr. Carnahan stated that the parties charged by Dawson with passing counterfeit money were held to appear at the August term, 1866; the prosecuting witness, Dawson, not appearing, and officers not being able to find him, the cases were continued till the October term, the recognizances of defendants being renewed; in October Dawson was still missing, and the defendants, among them Isaac Thompson, were held in their own recognizances but subsequently a nolle pros. was ordered to be and was entered in the case of Thompson, but there being no bill found, Mr. Carnahan thought Thompson was simply discharged from his recognizance. Mr. Carnahan stated that the matter was discussed whether Dawson should be arrested, at the time he was making informations, inasmuch as it was supposed that he was in possession of important facts. Mr. C. was consulted about the matter, and asked whether he would agree not to prosecute Dawson, if he would tell the truth; Mr. C. said he would recommend his case to the government authorities. Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., who appeared as counsel for some of the parties arrested, insisted upon Dawson's arrest, being confident that he would run away. It was stated that Dawson kept a tavern at West Brownsville, and that he had made arrangements to entertain a party of showmen. He was permitted by the United States Marshal to return home, and that was the last heard of him.

Samuel Thompson, brother of the prosecutor, testified that he saw Dawson and Moffitt together on the steps at the United States Court room about the time the information was made against his brother.

Abraham Geary, of Washington county, testified that in the spring of 1866, Moffitt carried on the business of carriage making at Bridgeport, opposite Brownsville. Had a conversation with him some time in May, at his shop, about trading for a buggy; asked me if I had heard of the arrest of Isaac Thompson; said I had, and that if the charge was true I would encourage him (Moffitt) to go on with the case; he said it was even worse than the report; and that if I would go in and help him indict Isaac Thompson I should have as good a buggy as I could wish to ride in; he remarked that he had got Dawson to swear against Thompson, but was fearful that unless he got other testimony he could not convict him. Told him I had no perfect knowledge of Thompson passing counterfeit money, and had no dealings with him for some years. About two weeks afterwards heard Moffitt say that he believed "Sammy" Thompson was guilty of passing the counterfeit money, but as to Isaac he had no personal knowledge, but as he had him by the heels he would put him up.

Cross-examined.—Before that had not sufficient knowledge of Moffitt to converse with him; had known him for some years, but had no dealings with him.

At 4:30 Court adjourned. As the case is likely to occupy to-day, the jurors, except those impannelled, were discharged till Monday.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, March 21, 1867.

—Says the New York Tribune: The quarterly statements of the National Banks show a steady decrease in the surplus of reserve, and should teach people to be as free of bank loans as possible, in view of the contraction in bank credits which must inevitably take place under the retirement of plain legal-tenders and the funding and payment of compound notes.

—On Monday Mr. Hooper, of Massachusetts, reintroduced his bill, reported last December, to amend the currency act, and it was referred to the committee on banks and currency. It is not proposed to call up this bill for action at present, but merely to have it presented, in order that it may be considered during the recess by the banks and others most interested in the subject.

—The New York Economist, (a journal favoring an expansion of the currency) in an article entitled "unicontraction," says of Mr. McCulloch's policy:

"There is a boldness of recklessness in the contraction of last month which is alarming. In January the Secretary was so alarmed at the effects of his previous three months operations in the way of retiring greenbacks, that to avoid an evidently eminent panic, he made no attempt at contraction that month, and to quiet the prevailing apprehension, gave a quasi assurance that, for a time at least, he would hold his hand off. Yet he no sooner saw money becoming easier and confidence returning in commercial circles, than he retired $7,000,000 more legal tenders, effecting in one month a contraction of nearly double the monthly amount prescribed by law. True, this operation has produced no panic; but it has suspended the process of recuperation from the effects of the previous contraction, which was steadily spreading throughout the business of the country, and has renewed the feeling of uneasiness which a few weeks ago paralysed our commerce."

—In the State of Ohio one hundred and eighty millions of dollars are invested in railroads, much of it unprofitable and much of it held abroad; but of twenty-nine railroads reporting to the commissioner of statis, nine made profits; eleven made dividends; ten roads have made more than eight per cent. On two thousand five hundred miles of road exclusive in Ohio, and having an aggregate capital of $128,000,000, there was a net profit of $7,800,000, which is six per cent. While, therefore, there are five or six roads in Ohio which make nothing, the aggregate property cannot be said to be unprofitable, while that of ten roads is very lucrative. Most of this property is held in Ohio, New York, or New England.

CATTLE.

The market for cattle at these yards, to use a common expression, is about played out. The arrivals this week have been remarkably light, not exceeding two hundred head, and while there were but few buyers, the demand nevertheless, was considerably in excess of the supply, and good cattle, had there been any here, would have sold readily, and that, too, at extreme prices. So far as we could learn, there was not a single Philadelphia buyer in attendance, and the same is true of Baltimore and New York, but there is a very good cause for the slim attendance of buyers, as there was no stock here from which shippers could have made selections. Prime shipping cattle, suitable for retailing in the eastern markets, would have brought 8 to 8¼ while common to medium may be quoted at 6 to 7, and good at 7¼ to 7¾. There is a continued fair demand for stock cattle, and good stockers sell readily at 6 to 6¾, and even 6¾. The supply, notwithstanding it was unusually light, was composed almost entirely of common and inferior grades, there being but very few, if any, good cattle on sale.

SHEEP.

There is a continued good demand for this class of stock, and with a pretty full attendance of buyers, and a light supply, prices have still further advanced, and we now quote at 6½ to 8½ per pound, gross, for common to prime fat mutton sheep. The sales all told amount to something like 35 car loads, 23 car loads of which go to Philadelphia, and the balance, 12 car loads, to New York. Hesser & Pierce shipped 12 car loads to Philadelphia; Deitrich 6, Loyd 4, Rawl 1, and Erisman & Pidcock shipped 12 car loads to New York.

HOGS.

There has also been a continued good shipping demand for Hogs this week, and compared with last week, prices, if anything, are a shade higher. Baltimore and Philadelphia Hogs may be quoted at from 7¾ to 8½, the latter, an extreme price and could only be obtained for prime Western cornfed. New York Hogs range from 7¼ to 7¾. Messenger, Gillett & Co. shipped 20 car loads to New York, of which they bought 787 here at 7,15 to 7,50. This firm shipped six hundred head of Hogs to New York last week, realizing a profit of ninety-nine cents; pretty close shaving, that. Lafferty & Co. sold 587 head at from 7,37 to 8,15. Singer & Imhoff bought 1600 for Philadelphia, at 7,50 to 8,25; and 111 for Baltimore at 7,90. Crouse, Emerick & Co. sold 410 head at 7,12 to 8,25; shipped 781 to Philadelphia and New York. Gilchreist & Co. bought 800 for Philadelphia at 7,87 to 8,10. C. M. Keys bought 220 for Baltimore at 7,90.

REPORTED SALES OF CATTLE.

Huffman to Shamberg 14 head, weighing 13,675, at 6. Dickson to Shamberg 12 head, weighing 12,160, at 6½. Clark to Aull & Co. 22 head, weighing 21,125, at 6. Coulter to Wernz 8 head, weighing 8,250, at —. Wernz to Manns 14 head, weighing 19,160, at 7,70; McCloud to Wernz 15 head, weighing 19,515, at 7¾. Chryst to Martin 34 head, weighing 38,350, at 7,35. Sherrick to Shamberg 17 head weighing 18,625, at 7,40.

New York Cattle Market.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The Beef Market is dull, and owners who have bought at high prices, current in Buffalo and Pittsburgh, lost heavily on this venture. There were yarded at Communipaw about 1,000 to 1,100 head of fair stock. The Bergen Hill Market was also poor for sellers, but losses there were not so heavy as at Communipaw or at 100th Street, where some 600 head were on sale.

Milwaukee Market.

MILWAUKEE, March 21.—Flour dull. Wheat unsettled; per cental, $3,97 for No. 1 and $3,65@3,67 for No. 2. Oats weak, at $1,63 for No. 2. Corn lower, at $1,61 for No. 1 and $1,43 for No. 2.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, March 21, 1867.

CRUDE—The market was remarkably quiet to-day, the transactions being comparatively insignificant, which was owing mainly to the fact that holders are making an effort to establish a still further advance. We have a sale of 1000 bbls for April, at 6¾; and it is said that there was a thousand barrels sold for May at 6¾. As already noted, there is an effort being made to give the give the market another screw upward and some holders are even asking seven cents, though as yet there are but few buyers at anything above 6¾. It is reported that there was an offer in the market to day to sell 5000 for April, 5000 for May, and 5000 for June, at seven cents, without finding takers. Private advices from Oil City, under date of Wednesday, report sales at $1,95 to $2 at that point.

REFINED—There was but very little done in bonded oil to-day, the only sale reported being fifteen hundred barrels on private terms. We are cognizant of an offer to buy standard white at 28¼, delivered in Philadelphia, and advancing one-half cent per gallon each subsequent month until December,—averaging about 30c for the last six months of the year. Also, offers to buy prime light straw to white, at 26, for April, and standard white, at 27. For spot oil, quotations may be fairly given, in the absence of sales, at 20 to 20¼, on cars here, and 25 delivered in Philadelphia. The extreme views of refiners has a tendency to retard operations, and besides many of them have sold ahead pretty largely.

ARRIVALS—But two arrivals reported—1200 bbls for W. P. Logan, and 300 for James Wilkins.

At the open board and at the Stock Exchange there was a steadier feeling and a slight recovery. The general market is dull, but sellers' option freely taken at a small difference. After the regular call there was rather more disposition manifested to buy, and for a time the market was quite firm, but it fell off ⅛ to ¼ per cent. from board quotations. Just previous to the one o'clock session the market was lower at that board, but firmer, subsequently advancing slightly after the second board, and then continuing steady to the close. ## RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with scant six feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks last evening. The weather was unsettled and unpleasant with a mixture of rain and sleet, falling at intervals.

The Silver Lake No. 4, from St. Louis, is the only arrival we have to record aside from the regular packets. The Maggie Hays, from Cincinnati, is due here to-day, and the Spray, from Louisville, may be expected in within the next few days.

The Ezra Porter, Capt. J. H. Porter, is the regular Saturday packet for Cincinnati, and the Ida Rees, Capt. Brown, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville forthwith.

The Kenton, Capt. Dunlap, is filling up slowly for New Orleans, and the Glasgow, Capt. Johnston, is up for St. Louis. These are both good boats.

The Wheeling Intelligencer says: "Six thousand kegs of Boston nails crossed the river at Benwood on Friday, carried by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, at fifty-four cents per keg, from Boston to Cincinnati. Only think of it! Fifty-four cents per one hundred pounds from Boston to Cincinnati, and one dollar per hundred for citizens of the State from Baltimore to Wheeling, and larger rates in proportion as the distance carried in the State is less.

The Maggie Hays and Spray left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Tuesday, and the Columbia was advertised to follow on Wednesday. The America, enroute for Nashville, and the Messenger, for New Orleans, arrived at Cincinnati on Tuesday, and the Leonidas and Sam Brown (towboat) were at Cairo the same day, both enroute for New Orleans.

A couple of Louisville gentlemen visited the Great Republic at Cincinnati on Tuesday, and after inspecting her thoroughly, were asked how she would compete with the Richmond. "Richmond!" exclaimed one, "Why gentlemen, the Richmond can no more compete with this boat in size or elegance, than a donkey can in a race with a thorough bred racer. I would give $5 for the privilege of seeing Stut Neal's face when he steps his foot inside this cabin." The complimentary testimonial, from a citizen of Louisville, argues badly for the Richmond as a rival or competitor.

THE GREAT REPUBLIC AT CINCINNATI.—Our Cincinnati exchanges of Wednesday, have a good deal to say about the Great Republic, and as our readers we know will be interested in reading what they think about her, we make a few extracts. We will commence with the Gazette:

For several weeks past the expectations of the public have been kept alive by sundry notices of a palatial leviathan steamboat which the Pittsburghers have given birth to. The feeling in regard to this boat has been most general, from the fact that at Madison, Indiana, the Louisvillians have built a boat which they have christened Richmond, and as both steamers were designed as the chef'd ouvre of the mechanical skill and ingenuity of the respective cities, the journals of the competing cities have teemed with paragraphs in support of their favorite craft. The agony is nearly over. In a few days the rival boats will lay side by side at Louisville, from which place, we trust, an impartial judgment relative to the qualities of the mammoth steamers will be given. As we have said, the feeling here to see the Great Republic has been immense; and it was not, therefore, a matter of astonishment, when her arrival was announced in yesterday's morning journals, that before the day was ended, fully fifteen thousand of our citizens had boarded and inspected her. A continual outpouring and inpouring from 7 o'clock a. m. until 5 p. m., was kept up, one half of whom were ladies. At no time within the hours named were the gangways otherwise than crowded to overflowing, for we saw several tumbling in the river and contiguous mud.

The wharf was alive with beauteous ladies and representatives of the sterner sex. Humanity of all ages, sizes, color and sex, might have been seen wending their way along the various approaches leading toward the foot of Broadway, where the great attraction lay. The crowd was immense, and reminded one forcibly of Presidential orations and 4th of July processions. Every person was talking Great Republic, they laughed Great Republic, the stevedores swore Great Republic, and last night, on the boat, a magnificent party danced Great Republic.

Says the Enquirer: The fact of the arrival of the steamer Great Republic becoming generally known through the morning papers, thousands, desirous of seeing with their own eyes the greatness and splendor of this mammoth steamer—about which they heard so much—paid her visit during yesterday. The officers of the boat, and the large number of Pittsburghers, who are passengers on her, and who naturally feel a pride in the great achievement of their city in this line, will certainly have no reason to complain that people have not evinced sufficient interest in the great boat they have built after the crowds that visited her yesterday. That the Great Republic is a splendid steamer, everybody agrees; that she surpasses, in all respects, every other boat on the Western watert, we are safe in saying, everybody don't quite agree.

As we said yesterday, after getting a moonlight view of her on the water, her appearance is more imposing than beautiful. Her great breadth, which allows such a spacious cabin, detracts from the architectural beauty of the steamer as a whole. From this fact, it is judged too that many of our trim steamers of much less motive power will outstrip her in speed. The Richmond, just finished at Louisville, is five feet longer, without having so much breadth. However, this question will soon be tested after the Great Republic gets down where she can run a tilt with some of our better class steamers. The boat is finished and furnished throughout in the richest and mostly costly style. Her cabin is splendidly finished, and furnished with the luxuriant elegance of a palace.

Says the Commercial: The long-looked for Great Republic yesterday was the center of attraction at our wharf, she being the "observed of all observers." It is estimated that between twenty-five and thirty thousand people visited the Great Republic during the day. In our estimation, the Great Republic is the finest steamboat that ever visited our wharf, and we do not know of any boat that can compare with her. The Republic will leave for New Orleans to-morrow afternoon. The Messenger, Capt. Jesse Dean, brought down from Pittsburgh yesterday, about 200 tons freight, one item being 1500 plows. The Messenger will take her departure for New Orleans this evening without fail. The Alice Dean, for New Orleans, had an excellent cargo last evening, and was full of people. Several of our citizens left on her on a pleasure excursion, including the Hon. Thos. H. Weasner, and the Hon. A. J. Pruden. Capt. Pepper has telegraphed the rector of Dr. Price's church, in New Orleans, for reserved pews on Sunday next, 24th inst. The Louisville, Captain A. Q. Ross, arrived from Louisville yesterday, and returns to New Orleans to-morrow, from the foot of Race street. Captain Ross is one of nature's noblemen. Dennis Long, the famous Louisville engine builder, and Mr. Howard, the celebrated Jeffersonville boat builder, inspected the Great Republic yesterday, and "acknowledged the corn" that she is a complete success in every particular. The cabins of the Great Republic were illuminated last night, several hundred invited guests participating in the "mazes of the giddy dance" till the "wee sma' hours." The Pine Grove arrived from Pittsburgh yesterday.
